Co-Teaching: After the Honeymoon is Over

This course will focus on effective co-planning, distinguishing between differentiated and specialized instructional strategies, incorporating instructional and assistive technologies, and strategically choosing delivery models to maximize student access to the curriculum. Instructors will share strategies and resources to implement in the classroom, ensuring a job-embedded professional learning experience to improve teacher practice and student achievement.

***In order to maximize achievement for students and to improve inclusion practices, it is recommended that the General and Special Education team members attend together.
