Hitting the Target: Formative Practices to Impact Student Learning

December 5, 2017: 8:30 AM - 3:30 PM

Formative practices provide critical feedback for students and teachers on student learning. Join us as we explore topics and strategies to provide teachers with tools and practices for formative assessment. We will also learn about ways to empower students as the owners of their learning. This course expands upon the learning target concepts in the Georgia FIP modules and supports professional learning goals in instructional planning and assessment for K-12 educators.

Classroom Management

December 5, 2017: 8:30 AM - 3:30 PM

Classroom management is not simply the absence of discipline problems, but an intentional set of practices that promote a positive environment for all students. This course is designed to help school personnel organize and manage the learning environment. The course will provide ideas, strategies and emotional objectivity to promote learning in the classroom setting.

Grammar: To Teach or Not To Teach? That is the Question Grades 6-12

December 7, 2017: 8:30 AM - 3:30 PM

Opening the dreaded grammar book to drill and practice is taboo, but teachers complain students lack a basic understanding of language standards. Contemporary wisdom is to incorporate grammar into reading and writing lessons. How? Many teachers are not sure how to sneak grammar in without losing momentum. At the end of the school year grammar is often left out in the cold as teachers wrestle with whether or not to teach it and when.

Come explore ways to hitch grammar with reading and writing to create a match made in heaven. See grammar as a super hero that can rescue students when reading and writing threaten to overwhelm.

Instructor will share strategies and resources to implement in the school setting, ensuring a job-embedded professional learning experience that will positively impact teacher practice and student achievement.
