Teacher Choice Series:
Read Like Your Book's On Fire
For 9-12 Teachers in All Content Areas

Tell students to read long passages of informational text and watch sparks fly! Many students shudder when confronted with difficult reading assignments and do anything to avoid reading them. This class is designed to teach strategies that will ignite student interest in reading across content areas by having them interact with text in ways that will enable them to remember what they are reading. Come and participate in research based strategies that will show you reading is not a passive activity. Be prepared to move, echo, interact, sing along, and maybe read like your book's on fire!
