RTI Tiered Instructional and Behavioral Supports

Date: November 1, 2023 – December 5, 2023

Time: Asynchronous Content

Please note that this is a survey course, intended to provide a general overview of Tier 1 supports for both instruction and behavior to enhance your understanding of these important principles. You'll be asked to reflect and respond to some discussion prompts on the topic, as well as complete three short assignments to relate Tier 1 practice to your past, present, or future classroom work. It's my hope that you'll follow up to learn more about this important concept as you strive to meet the needs of all students, through face to face classes at Griffin RESA and in your own school system.

Learning targets for this class are:

- What is RTI?
- What do we need data in RTI?
- What Tier 1 instructional strategies can I routinely use to meet the needs of my classroom?

For more information or to register, go to www.griffinresa.net

Paraprofessionals Conference

Date: November 1, 2023, Time: 8:30 AM – 3:30 PM

Behind Every Great Teacher is a Great Paraprofessional
The role of the paraprofessional is vital to support the needs of struggling learners and provide a positive learning environment in the classroom and throughout the school. Registrants will return to their schools with skills and knowledge on positive behavior interventions, strategies to support exceptional learners, high-engagement lessons and activities that can be adapted to all grade levels, and effective support strategies to improve the instruction and learning environment for students at all grade levels.

Topics include:

- Supporting Struggling Learners
- Low Profile Behavior Interventions
- Engagement Strategies
- Strategies for Supporting the Classroom Teacher

De-Escalation Strategies

Date: November 2, 2022; Time: 8:30 AM – 3:30 PM

In a post pandemic world and heightened mental health challenges, are you equipped to help students avoid crisis situations? This session focuses on applying non-physical, evidence-based strategies at each phase of the behavior escalation cycle in your class or school.

A variety of approaches will guide you through preventative approaches to minimize situationally challenging behavior from escalating. You will also learn how to establish a systems approach to decrease the severity of a crisis.

How to Design & Plan Instruction for Students with Processing Deficits

Date: November 2, 2023; Time: 8:30 AM – 3:30 PM

“How do I plan instruction for students with processing deficits?” This course will provide participants with a deeper understanding of how processing deficits interfere with the way students understand and make meaning of the information presented to them. Participants will develop an understanding of the processing deficits that are outlined in psychoeducational evaluation reports of students with disabilities. This session will guide participants through activities that build their understanding of processing deficits. They will also explore how to identify, design, plan, and implement instructional strategies (SDI) based on student deficits that support improved outcomes.

This professional development opportunity is provided by a grant for our regional school systems. Therefore, it is Open only to educators in the Griffin RESA region: (Butts, Fayette, Henry, Lamar, Pike, Newton, Griffin-Spalding, and Thomaston-Upson School Systems).

GA PSC Ethics for Paraprofessionals

Date: November 6, thru November 24, 2023

Time: Asynchronous Content

To ensure educators know, understand, and can apply Georgia's Code of Ethics for Educators to their daily practice, paraprofessional ethics modules were developed by Georgia's RESAs in collaboration with the GaPSC. The enhanced learning gained by paraprofessionals who participate in the training will help protect them, their colleagues, their schools, their school districts, their community, and, most importantly, their students, by enhancing professionalism and school safety.

Innovative Scheduling for Leaders

Date: November 7, 2023; Time: 8:30 AM – 3:30 PM

To build knowledge, foster student motivation and school success, teachers need to collaborate, plan and reflect outside of their instructional time. Scheduling is a valuable but often untapped resource for school improvement. Innovative thinking with scheduling can increase funding and result in more effective use of time, space, and resources. In this course, leaders will learn tips and strategies to maximize FTE funding with scheduling while improving their instructional climate. The instructor will share materials and resources that support LKES standards 4, 5, and 7.

"Plot Twist: Writing can be Engaging, Accessible, and Standards Based!"

Date: November 9, 2023; Time: 8:30 AM – 3:30 PM

Writing can be the Tale of the Two Cities- the best of times or the worst of times. Don't get caught up in only one world: process or assessment. In this course, you will learn how to make the world of informal writing and formal writing blend into one! Come master how to facilitate and guide scholars into the navigation of how to be creative in their own thinking and use the thinking of others to support their opinions.

The instructor will guide you through a variety of practical activities that can be used immediately, such as: using standards to create rubrics (if not using GaDOE rubrics), working backwards from exemplars, making writing accessible through pictures and listening activities, and leveraging explicit vocabulary to close reading, using rubrics to chunk writing to a text, implementing peer feedback loops for collaboration, and staying

Writing Across the Content Areas 6th-12th

Date: November 16, 2023; Time: 8:30 AM - 3:30 PM

So many times content area teachers are told that they are reading and writing teachers, too, but what exactly does that mean and how do content area teachers actually do that without taking the focus off of the content area itself? In this course you will not only walk away with a clearer understanding of what reading and writing instruction expectations are in the content areas, but be able to confidently integrate writing, seamlessly. Participants will cover the traditional high-stakes writing (papers, projects, etc.) but a particular focus is on low-stakes writing. Low-stakes writing is the key to making writing a tool that is used to learn the content and marry writing and content together, on a daily basis.

Instructor will share strategies and resources to implement in the classroom, enhancing teacher practices related to TKES Standards 2,3,7, and supporting literacy standards and resulting in increased student success in writing.

The F.I.P. Side of Georgia Milestones Writing (Grades 3-5)

Date: November 28, 2023; Time: 8:30 AM – 3:30 PM

Do you fret over the fine line between daily, authentic writing instruction and the current EOG Milestones writing tasks? The solution is to flip the traditional writing instruction into the cycle of formative instructional practices (F.I.P.).

Simulating a key formative practice, participants will engage in grade-level collaboration to deconstruct the two, four, and seven point writing rubrics, and determine appropriate learning targets to improve student achievement for each of the three writing types.

Workshop participants will apply F.I.P. strategies to create quality assignments, preparing students to address the following Milestones demands:

- Comprehension of on-grade level texts
- Connecting information across paired texts
- Writing to show evidence of comprehension

Teachers will return to the classroom with formative strategies that are generalizable across different language arts lessons.

Turning Reading Assessment Data into Targeted Instruction

Date: November 30, 2023; Time: 8:30 AM – 3:30 PM

You have the assessment, now what? This course is about providing a structure comprised of tools and thinking to make true assessment driven instruction a reality. You will not only gain confidence and clarity on how to properly collect, analyze, and interpret data, but will also know how to create goals and action plans to meet the individual needs of the student.

The instructor will share strategies and resources that will support TKES Standards 1,2, 3,4,5,6,7, and 8 with practical takeaways that will positively impact teacher practice and student achievement.
