Contextual Literacy in Science and Social Studies

Effectively acquiring, assessing, and communicating information about learning in science and social studies is a critical component of the GSE. This class will focus on ways to engage students in literacy in the science and social studies classroom and help students make their thinking visible, while being mindful of Lexile levels. Strategies will be provided to address common sense ways to support literacy in a contextual manner, including the key role content-specific terminology plays as part of the learning process. We will also address how students obtain, evaluate, and communicate information through a literacy lens. This class supports teachers' professional learning goals for instructional planning to meet standard 2 of TKES. Instructor will share strategies and resources to implement in the school setting, ensuring a job-embedded professional learning experience that will positively impact instructional planning and student learning, as well as supporting struggling students and diverse learners.
