CLASS DESCRIPTION

Part 1 - This comprehensive professional development session is designed to build a deep understanding of the Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) framework and its critical role in promoting student success. Participants will explore the core components of MTSS, including tiered instruction, data-based decision-making, universal screening, progress monitoring, and evidence-based interventions across academics, behavior, and social-emotional learning. Educators will gain practical strategies to strengthen their school's MTSS practice and implementation. The session will also focus on building strong foundational systems, using data effectively to support students at all levels, and creating a culture of collaboration and shared responsibility. This training is ideal for teachers, school leaders, interventionists, counselors, and support staff who are working to build or strengthen their school's MTSS framework.
