The Art of Literacy Coaching

“Coaching is unlocking a person’s potential to maximize their own performance. It’s helping them to learn rather than teaching them.” Tim Gallwey

Literacy coaches have a unique, powerful opportunity to provide ongoing support to teachers. They create spaces for professional development, collaboration, modeling, and coaching of evidence-based practices.

This course will spur literacy coaches to leverage those spaces to nudge their reading teachers to their maximum. Guided reading is a powerful teaching method, especially in K-2.

Instructor will share strategies and resources that will support TKES Standards 1,3,7, and 8 with practical takeaways that will positively impact teacher practice and student achievement.
