

Transforming Writing Instruction: Practical Strategies to Strengthen Student Writing and Reading Comprehension

WHEN

October 23, 2025
8:30 am – 3:30 pm

Registration Deadline: October 16, 2025

CLASS DESCRIPTION

This full-day professional learning experience empowers educators with practical, research-based strategies to teach writing in ways that also deepen reading comprehension. Through a structured, scaffolded approach, participants will learn how to build students' sentence and paragraph writing skills while enhancing their ability to analyze and understand complex texts. Whether in ELA, social studies, science, or math, the writing strategies explored in this course are designed to help students make sense of content, express ideas clearly, and develop critical thinking skills. Educators will leave with a toolkit of ready-to-use strategies that connect writing, reading, and learning across the curriculum.

TARGET AUDIENCE

K – 3rd Grade Teachers,
Paraprofessionals,
Instructional Coaches,
& Administration

COST

$40 in region
$55 out of region

REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED

Register Here!