Using Games to Teach Mathematics

Learn to use games in math class to build conceptual understanding and to practice skills in numbers and operations, geometry, measurement, data and algebraic thinking. The instructor will share strategies and resources that will engage students of all levels. Management strategies will be shared so teachers can implement these games to ensure that job-embedded professional learning will positively impact teacher practice and student achievement. The class will support teachers' professional learning goals TKES to meet standard 1, 3, 5, 7, and 8.
